In June of last year, at the graduation ceremony for The Palapa Society Beca Scholarship Program recipients, the students were asked what that special day meant to them.

"My scholarship helped me start my dreams. I will set the world on its head!" —David C.

"Receiving a scholarship was for me an opportunity to not give up and to keep going." —Dora R.

"This is a good step towards my future!" —Sergio M.

"This is not just my achievement: it's my family's achievement and that of every member of The Palapa Society, without whom this dream wouldn't be possible. Thank you." —Osiris V.

The Palapa Society of Todos Santos, A.C., is a multi-cultural, non-profit Mexican Civil Association. The mission is the development and administration of scholarship, educational, and environmental programs for the benefit of local children and their families, with a goal that every student who yearns for an education has a chance to acquire it. This philosophy applies to all members of the community, which is why scholarships funds are raised for all students, whether they attend public school, The Palapa School, or university.

WHY SCHOLARSHIPS?

Over 15 years ago, The Palapa Society began as a scholarship program. In Mexico, students must pay for a portion of their schooling. The Palapa Society's Beca Scholarship Program has helped to cover necessities such as tuition, books, and supplies for students who demonstrate merit and have a financial need. Thanks to our

Q: A lot of people have heard different things about owning property in Mexico. Can foreigners actually own property in Los Cabos?

A: Absolutely, property may be acquired by a foreigner through a Mexican Bank Trust, that trust then names the buyer of the property as the beneficiary of the trust. This actually creates a more secure transaction, it's similar to how a Title Holding Trust or Land Trust functions in the United States. Also, Title Insurance is available for those who wish to purchase it.

Q: Why should I invest in real estate in Los Cabos? Will my investment be safe?

A: There are the financial and lifestyle components to your investment, both give you a return. Cabo has been consistent in keeping its value and growing, especially within the premier communities of the region. Making a lifestyle investment in Los Cabos is generational and creates memories for family and friends that last a lifetime.

Los Cabos has held its value for over 30 years as a luxury destination. Brands such as Auberge continue to expand; while the Four Seasons, Ritz-Carlton, Aman Resorts, and even the first Nobu hotel and residences in Latin America are set to open. International companies wouldn't be betting on Los Cabos unless they're certain these major investments are safe.

Q: Finally, could you tell us why someone interested in real estate should come to Los Cabos Sotheby's International Realty?

A: I arrived in Los Cabos in 1984, establishing my first real estate company, Pisces Real Estate in 1988. When purchasing property in Cabo it's all about the lifestyle it provides for you, and no one understands the Cabo lifestyle better than we do. We truly are Los Cabos insiders, and use that knowledge to work for our clients and find them the best deals and solid investment opportunities. Our track-record speaks for itself; we've sold over 500 million USD in real estate, and our group was a founding member of the Los Cabos MLS.

generous donors, as of this year, over 1,100 scholarships have been awarded to middle school, high school, and university students in and around the Todos Santos area. And at The Palapa School, all students receive some form of sliding scale scholarship.

DID YOU KNOW... The Palapa Society currently supports tuition for 150 students with full or partial scholarships for public middle and high school, The Palapa School, and university.

EXTRAORDINARY STUDENTS

The Palapa Society Beca Scholarship Program supports academically driven students who are determined to get the most out of going to school and applying their education. Student Karen V. is an excellent example. She has overcome the challenges of moving to Todos Santos from Mexico City, and has excelled to be one of the top members of her class. She recently scored perfect 10s—the highest score possible—on her exams in Chemistry, History, Philosophy, Art, and more. “My experience at The Palapa School is wonderful and unique. When I go to university, I want to study design in Paris, France.”

And there are students who have learned the importance of giving back, like public high school graduate and Beca

Scholarship recipient Asael M., who is currently studying Chemical Engineering at The Universidad Autónoma Metropolitana (UAM) in Mexico City. Asael returned to Todos Santos last month to volunteer his time working with students in The Palapa School Science Lab, while his teachers at UAM are on strike. He’s an extraordinary role model for the younger students.

EXTRAORDINARY LEARNING OPPORTUNITIES

Having the ability to attend school can provide opportunities and open doors in ways we may have never imagined. Palapa School ninth-grader Paola L. was selected to receive the American Field Service scholarship to study technology and environmental care in Cairo, Egypt this summer, giving her the chance to learn with students from around the world.

EXTRAORDINARY FUTURES

We know that having an educated community can help reduce drug and alcohol abuse, teen pregnancy, and domestic violence, but it can also help create happier, more productive members of society.

Lidia Lopez graduated with her license (degree) in architecture, with the support of The Palapa Society Beca Scholarship program. In 2016, she became project manager for the construction of The Palapa Learning Center. “I am grateful to The Palapa Society for the support I received, which allowed me to finish my higher education. I’m very excited to have worked on the building of The Palapa Learning Center for future generations of students.”

A Pirate, a Priest, a Partera:

Three Powerful Characters Who Shaped the Spirit of Todos Santos

El Pirata, el Padre, y la Partera:

Tres Personajes que Formaron el Espíritu de Todos Santos

by / por Bryan Jáuregui, traducido por Ricardo Madrazo

Baja California has always been something of a world apart, an isolated place with a culture and mindset not much tied to the passions and politics of mainland Mexico. It is therefore not surprising to learn that even though Mexico won independence from Spain in September 1821, in February 1822 the mission villages of southern Baja were still unaware of the fact. A British lord, Thomas Cochrane, hired by Chile to be an admiral of its navy, decided to break the news in his own way. In Chile ostensibly to help the newly liberated nations of the Americas squash pockets of Spanish resistance, Cochrane was really just a profiteer, a pirate, and the crews of his seven ships were comprised mainly of European mercenaries on the hunt for Spanish treasure. Although Mexican president de Iturbide had declined Cochrane's offer of "help," in February 1822 Cochrane nonetheless ordered his ship the Independencia into San José del Cabo where the Spanish flag was flying in the port. That flag was all the legal cover he needed to declare his pirates a liberation force tasked with removing all evidence of Spanish rule. The crew attacked San

La península de Baja California siempre ha sido un mundo aparte. Su cultura y mentalidad son diferentes a la del resto del país. En 1822, medio año después de que México había logrado la independencia ante España, la noticia no había llegado aún a las misiones de Baja California. Fue Thomas Cochrane, un lord inglés fungiendo como almirante de la armada chilena, quien reveló la noticia muy a su manera. Había sido contratado para proteger las nuevas repúblicas americanas ante la resistencia de grupos simpatizantes a la corona española; en realidad, Cochrane era un pirata, un bucanero y la tripulación de sus siete embarcaciones eran casi todos mercenarios europeos buscando tesoro español. Aunque de Iturbide había declinado la propuesta de Cochrane por sus servicios, en febrero de 1822 el almirante envió el buque Independencia al puerto de San José del Cabo, cuyo mástil aún ondeaba la bandera española. Con ese pretexto de la bandera, Cochrane se autodeclaró líder de las fuerzas libertadoras del puerto y

José del Cabo, looting everything that it could, including valuables from the mission church.

Encouraged by their success in “liberating” San José del Cabo, nine pirates from the Independencia decided to head north and “free” Todos Santos. As the mercenaries sacked their mission, the townspeople of Todos Santos stood calmly by. Perhaps mistaking this inaction for a general passivity of character, the pirates began groping the local women. Five of them lost their lives for this misjudgment when the men of Todos Santos demonstrated what they found worth defending in their town. Four of the pirates who didn’t die in the uprising were hauled off to prison in San Antonio. It was only when the Independencia’s captain threatened to blow up both Todos Santos and San Antonio that the Todos Santeños consented to return his crew.

The story of Pirate Thomas Cochrane is the first in Dr. Shane Macfarlan’s wonderful introduction to the “Cultures & Characters of Todos Santos: A Pirate, A Padre, & A Partera.” A professor of anthropology at the University of Utah, Dr. Macfarlan has conducted extensive research into the culture and societies that have shaped Todos Santos over the centuries. Padre Gabriel González, a Spanish-born Dominican priest who became a caudillo, is the second of Dr. Macfarlan’s trilogy.

Caudillos were strongmen who sprang up across Latin America in the 1800s in the aftermath of independence from Spanish rule. As Dr. Macfarlan notes, “It was a time when newly-minted nations were unstable and governmental institutions were weak, a situation ripe for the emergence of charismatic leaders with political ambitions and military acumen. The caudillos provided wealth and security to their followers, demanding loyalty in return.” Priests were not usually among their ranks but then, Padre Gabriel González was not your usual priest.

“Cool, cunning and intelligent” was how US lieutenant Henry Halleck summarized Padre Gabriel, adding that he was also “destitute alike of principal and honor.” The dominant figure in Baja California from his arrival in 1825 to 1850, Padre Gabriel had at least one family with multiple children, probably two, and lived with them at Rancho San Jacinto, a large holding south of Todos Santos that ostensibly belonged to the mission. There he amassed huge wealth producing tobacco, rum, sugar, corn, cattle, horses, and mules. When the Mexican congress voted to secularize mission lands in Baja California, Padre Gabriel successfully negotiated to ensure that Dominican lands in Todos Santos and San José del Cabo remained in the hands of the church, unlike those of the Franciscans in Alta California who were forced to relinquish all of their lands and assets.

But the Mexican government kept up the pressure and in 1833 declared that all church lands had to be secularized. This time the governor of Baja California, José María Mata, set out to personally enforce the law, a fact which lead Padre Gabriel to instigate an uprising against him in La Paz. In a sign of how powerful Padre Gabriel and his forces had become, Governor Mata was captured and expelled from the peninsula. But Mata rallied and in 1837 returned

por Pamela Ambrose

traducido por Paula Angeloni

La Galería de Todos Santos abrió recientemente en la calle Topete esta temporada, en su cuarta manifestación como una de las galerías de arte más importantes de Todos Santos.

Michael Cope comenzó su primera galería en 1994, junto con su esposa, Pat Matsuoka Cope. Actualmente, Pat se ha retirado y Erick Ochoa es el nuevo socio de Michael en la galería. Michael y Erick están haciendo las cosas de manera diferente, compartiendo la energía en vender arte, representar artistas y haciendo su propio arte. La galería siempre ha sido tanto un taller como un lugar para exhibir el arte de los artistas en los que ellos creen. "Algunos de nuestros artistas han estado con nosotros durante 25 años. Ha sido muy emocionante y satisfactorio, ver las relaciones que hemos establecido no solo con los artistas, sino también con nuestros clientes a largo del tiempo y poder vivenciar cómo se creaban las obras de arte y se formaban las colecciones." La galería desprende una sensación de familiaridad, ya que en un día cualquiera encontrarás artistas o coleccionistas visitándola para ver las novedades y charlar.

La ubicación anterior a las afueras de Todos Santos fue, según admitió Michael, un espacio enorme y difícil para exhibir arte. La antigua galería era más un destino en el cual había que conducir, a diferencia de la nueva ubicación con su alto tráfico peatonal. El asimilar que era necesario crear un espacio nuevo y más manejable, resultó en el encuentro de una excelente ubicación en el centro con múltiples galerías íntimas, además de un patio que también sirve como jardín de esculturas y un lugar para el restaurante. ¿Mencioné que esta es una galería con beneficios? Michael es un reconocido chef que prepara cocina de fusión asiática solo bajo reserva durante los fines de semana. Sentarse en la galería al atardecer, rodeado de arte y disfrutar de una cena, es el mejor de todos los mundos creativos. Cuando visite la galería, puede encontrar una exposición individual o una presentación grupal de los artistas que Cope y Ochoa representan. Encontrará dibujos, pinturas, esculturas, y cerámicas que van desde la abstracción y la representación hasta algo de surrealismo.

Manejar una galería no es una tarea fácil, y Michael Cope admite que incluso con sus años de experiencia, es una labor que se lleva a cabo con el día a día. "La gente entra en la galería y uno no tiene ni idea cuanto saben sobre arte; puede ser que estén simplemente paseando por ahí o que sean expertos en arte contemporáneo. Pero, una parte crucial y gratificante de ser propietario de una galería es que estás en el negocio de la educación. Ya sea que tengan conocimientos o no, nuestros visitantes aprendieron algo. "Hemos enviado arte a compradores que lo hacen por primera vez porque simplemente se enamoraron de una pieza y a coleccionistas experimentados que siguen de cerca el trabajo de cierto artista."

Erick y Michael son una combinación dinámica, con un contraste de personalidades y temperamento. Erick, con su cálida y acogedora sonrisa, es tranquilo, pensativo, sabe escuchar, y su arte refleja esas cualidades. Erick estudió arquitectura e ingeniería en Querétaro, pero se dio cuenta de que esas profesiones tenían demasiadas restricciones en su creatividad. Después de un breve intento en trabajar en carpintería, un amigo cercano le sugirió que conociera

Erick Ochoa and Michael Cope

The Galería de Todos Santos newly opened on calle Topete this season, in its fourth manifestation as one of Todos Santos leading art galleries.

Michael Cope started his first gallery in 1994, along with his wife, Pat Matsuoka Cope. Pat has now retired and Michael's new partner at the gallery is Erick Ochoa. Together Michael and Erick are doing things differently, sharing the energy of representing artists, selling art, and making their own art. The gallery has always been as much taller (workshop) as a place to exhibit the art of the artists they believe in. "Some of our artists have been with us for 25 years. The relationships we have established not just with the artists but also with our long-term clients have been exciting and fulfilling as we watched art being made and collections formed." The gallery gives off a sensibility of familiarity as on any day you will find a few artists or collectors just visiting to see what's new and talk a bit.

The previous location just outside of Todos Santos was, by Michael's own admission, a huge and difficult space to exhibit art. The former gallery was more of a driving destination than the new location with its busy pedestrian traffic. The realization that it was time to create a new and more manageable space, resulted in a great in-town location with multiple and intimate galleries, plus a patio that also serves as a sculpture garden and seating for the restaurant—Oh, did I mention that this is a gallery with benefits? Michael is an accomplished chef serving up Asian-fusion cuisine by reservation only on the weekends. Sitting in the gallery at sunset surrounded by art and enjoying dinner is the best of all creative worlds. When visiting the gallery, you might find a one-person exhibition or a group presentation of the artists that Cope and Ochoa represent. You'll find drawing, painting, sculpture, and

by Jill Logan

"THE ART OF GETTING IT DONE"

I need a deadline. As an artist, I can be easily sidetracked. Before owning my gallery, it often came in many forms as in requests from friends and family to help them move, go for lunch ("ah come on take some time off"), cook elaborate dinner gatherings with all the preparations necessary, or the "oh I am tired today" excuse and sometimes just plain feeling stuck, so anything is easier.

For instance, going into the garden and doing four hours of clipping and weeding. Or when I had a horse, riding and caring for it. I could and did find all kinds of excuses to not get in there and do the work.

My favorite deadline is an art show, particularly a one-man show. The necessity of producing many really good pieces of artwork, sometimes up to twenty paintings, can be a powerful drive.

I went through a painful divorce in 1996 when living in Laguna Beach. I had a one-person show in the Laguna Beach gallery, that represented me, due in four months. Day after day, I went in and just created the focus to finish one painting after another. In many ways this was better than therapy, even if I felt sure in my core that I would never pull it off.

Today it is really the call of the gallery. Clients who want specific work, or the need to fill up the empty space on the wall, as well as the need to meet payroll every week tugs at me big time. At times I seem to be always in a rush to myself, and, I am sure, to those who know me. Hurry up and get something done for gosh sakes!

Robert Genn, a Canadian artist, speaks on getting things done:

We painters also need to save our decision-making for things of importance. "Don't," as they say, "sweat the small stuff." I figure an average 11" x 14" uses up several hundred thousand decisions. Compound that over a day of painting and it's in the millions. Even the small decisions in a painting, some of them so micro and seemingly insignificant, are the building blocks of what we are to become.

Fact is, some lives are so filled with impedimentary drama and ancillary decision-making that there is little time left over for work.

While I sympathize with those who find it difficult to eliminate some workaday decisions, the idea is to step ASAP into the happy hunting ground. Here are a few ideas:

Simplify morning rituals.

Keep regular habits by day and week.

Have your workplace nearby and handy.

Work in a space unsullied by impedimenta.

Use a Day-Timer—plan your work; work your plan.

Always ask, "Is this action necessary?"

Be businesslike; discourage timewasters and interlopers.

Be efficient and mindful of wasted motion in your space.

Drive your car mainly for pleasure.

As far as possible, get stuff delivered and taken away.

Be modern—pay bills, bank, book flights, etc., online.

Keep your dress code practical and simple. You don't need to look good in a studio.

Quit your day and move to a relatively decision-free mode—play well, laugh much, love much, sleep well.

Finally, and most important, with every non work-related decision, you need to decide: "Is the decision I'm making truly needed, or is it just another excuse?"

"We cannot directly choose our circumstances, but we can choose our thoughts, and so indirectly, yet surely, we shape our circumstances."—self-help pioneer James Allen

Esoterica: The cosmetics tycoon and women's advocate Mary Kay Ash said, "There are three types of people: those who make things happen, those who watch things happen, and those who wonder what happened... You can decide which type of person you want to be." We artists need to be among those who make things happen. Self-starting, self-motivating, and self-critical, we focus our energy on thought, planning, observation, quality control, and production. Difficult decisions—lots of them—are both the joy and the burden of creative folks. "Those who avoid the tough choices of life," said author Robert Brault, "live a life they never chose."

a Michael Cope. Empezando como asistente de galería, pronto comenzó a estudiar dibujo y pintura bajo la tutoría de Michael. Al reconocer el talento inherente de Erick, Michael tuvo cuidado de moldear a su primer alumno en el dibujo y la forma escultórica antes de usar pintura. Se podría decir que fue casi un entrenamiento formal de estilo académico con las reglas de Michael sobre como aprender a caminar antes de correr a la creación artística.

Un subtítulo en la evolución de Erick como artista podría ser "Erick y las Vacas." Esta elección de tema se tornó en un ícono de Erick Ochoa. La historia del arte está llena de pinturas de animales, y Rosa Bonheur, una de las grandes pintoras del género francés de escenas de animales del siglo XIX, incorporó vacas en las escenas de su granja, pero nunca vio bovinos como los de Erick. Viejas vacas plácidas y sabias, con la atención detenida en el mundo que ven a través de sus ojos encapuchados. Pero ¿por qué estas vacas? "Lo que primero me atrajo fue la luz que pegaba en las vacas," afirma Erick. Como en la pintura, Rancho Las Playitas, "Las vacas actúan como un vehículo, o un lienzo en sí mismas, para la excepcional luz de Todos Santos." Para tener una visión real de la vida de las vacas, el rancho está a unos cuatro kilómetros al norte de Todos Santos. Pasas por ahí y allí están las vacas a la luz del sol.

Erick tiene un gran talento para comprender las propiedades de la luz en sus pinturas más recientes de la vida vegetal, como en Agave Dragón, 2018, donde una sola planta de Agave attenuata aglomera el plano cuadrado del lienzo para hacer que la imagen sea más grande que la vida con las hojas de la planta amenazantemente activas y empujando hacia el espectador. No es esta una imagen idealizada de un agave, sino una real, con las frágiles puntas marrones de las hojas inferiores muriendo, mientras que las hojas superiores con sus exuberantes verdes aluden al ciclo de vida y muerte de la planta. Caravaggio, el maestro italiano del Renacimiento, usó metafóricamente este recurso en su pintura de naturaleza muerta con una fruta demasiado madura que pasó su apogeo y está en ligero deterioro. Este musculoso agave al principio parece estar desprovisto de apoyo, simplemente flotando frente a nosotros, pero un pequeño artificio en la parte superior derecha del lienzo proporciona un contexto espacial a la imagen. Contrastando contra el color ladrillo del lienzo vemos un diminuto y fascinante zarcillo con flor que invitan al ojo y la mente a contemplar algo más allá del cuadro. La imagen del agave también conlleva un significado adicional como uno de los verdaderos símbolos de México con sus temas mitológicos de amor, vida, muerte, y celos. (La diosa Mayáhuél es la deidad femenina asociada con la planta de maguey entre las diversas culturas del centro de México.)

ceramics ranging from abstraction and representation to a bit of surrealism.

Operating a gallery is no small endeavor, and Michael Cope admits that even with his years of experience, it can be a very immediate day-to-day existence. "People walk into the gallery and you have no idea how much they know about art, whether they are just sightseeing, or are well informed about contemporary art. But, a crucial and gratifying part of being a gallery owner is that you are in the business of education. Whether they are knowledgeable or not, our visitors have learned something. We've shipped art to first time buyers who simply fell in love with a piece and to seasoned collectors who follow an artist's work closely."

Erick and Michael are a dynamic combination, a contrast in personality and temperament. Erick, with his warm, welcoming smile, is quiet and thoughtful, a listener whose own art reflects those qualities. Erick studied architecture and engineering in Querétaro but realized that this profession had too many restraints on his creativity. After a short attempt at carpentry, it was suggested by a close friend that Erick meet Michael Cope. Starting as a gallery assistant he soon began studying drawing and painting under Michael's mentoring. Recognizing Erick's inherent talent, Michael was careful to ground his then student first in drawing and sculptural form before using paint. One could say it was almost a formal, academic-style training with Michael setting rules about walking before running into art-making.

A subtitle to Erick's development as an artist could be 'Erick and the Cows.' This choice of subject matter became instantly identifiable with Erick Ochoa. Art history is full of animal paintings and Rosa Bonheur, one of the great French genre painter of animal scenes in the mid-1800s, GALERIA DE TODOS SANTOS cont. on page 45

¿Listos para agarrar una ola? Baja California Sur es mundialmente famosa por sus hermosas playas y sus buenas olas. El verano, con sus cálidas temperaturas en el agua, es un momento ideal para practicar el surf, skim, surf de remo, natación, snorkeling, buceo, y pesca.

Tener el equipo adecuado, puede marcar la diferencia entre una buena experiencia o un gran revolcón. Afortunadamente, Todos Santos y el Pescadero cuentan con las mejores tiendas para que te puedas tirar al agua, ya seas un surfista novato o un profesional. En este artículo, les presentamos tres tiendas locales que pueden llevarlos al agua para el viaje de sus vidas. Luego, todo lo que tienen que hacer es decidir si están listos para caerle a Cerritos, San Pedrito, La Pastora, o irse de "surfari" a La Costa, al noreste de San José del Cabo.

LA KATRINA SURF SHOP

De las tiendas de surf actualmente abiertas esta fue la primera en el área, siendo un núcleo de surf y patineta, en el corazón del centro histórico de Todos Santos.

El propietario Aaron Balducci ha llamado a Todos Santos su hogar desde hace 13 años. Cuando no está en la playa, se le puede encontrar enseñando yoga en Cuatro Vientos, paseando en bicicleta, o trabajando en la tienda. Aaron se mudó a Todos Santos en febrero del 2006 y ha sido fundamental en patrocinar surfistas y patinadores locales altamente talentosos, así como para ayudar a fomentar el crecimiento de la escena del skate local. Aaron ha estado patinando desde siempre y surfeando por un poco menos que eso. La tienda de surf La Katrina abrió sus puertas en SURF DE BAJA continúa en página 39

Baja's Best Surf Shops

ARE YOU READY TO CATCH A WAVE?

Baja California Sur is world famous for its gorgeous beaches and killer waves. Summer, with the warm water temperatures, is a great time for surfing, skim boarding, stand up paddle boarding, swimming, snorkeling, diving, and fishing.

Having the right equipment can make all the difference between a smooth ride or a wipeout. Thankfully, Todos Santos and Pescadero have the best stores, all locally owned and operated, to get you out there, whether you're a first-time surfer or pro. In this issue, we share three local stores that can get you out in the water for the ride of your life. Then all you have to do is decide whether you're ready to hit Cerritos, San Pedrito, La Pastora, or take a surfari to the East Cape.

LA KATRINA SURF SHOP

The area's longest operating surf shop is a core surf and skate shop in the heart of the Todos Santos Historic District.

Owner Aaron Balducci has called Todos Santos his home for 13 years. When he is not at the beach, he can be found teaching yoga at Cuatro Vientos, cruising around on his bike, or working at the shop. Aaron moved to Todos Santos in February 2006 and has been instrumental in sponsoring highly talented local surfers and skaters as well as helping foster the growth of the local skate scene. Aaron has been skating since forever and surfing for a little less than that. La Katrina Surf Shop opened its doors in the summer of 2012 and has become the go-to shop for surfers, skaters

En junio del año pasado, en la ceremonia de graduación para los beneficiarios del Programa de Becas de La Sociedad de La Palapa, se preguntó a los estudiantes qué significaba ese día especial para ellos.

"Mi beca me ayudó a comenzar mis sueños. ¡Pondré al mundo de cabeza!"—David C.

"Recibir una beca fue para mí la oportunidad de no rendirme y seguir adelante."—Dora R.

"¡Este es un buen paso hacia mi futuro!"—Sergio M.

"Este no es solo mi logro: es el logro de mi familia y de cada miembro de La Sociedad de La Palapa, sin los cuales este sueño no sería posible. Gracias."—Osiris V.

La Sociedad de La Palapa de Todos Santos, A.C., es una Asociación Civil Mexicana, multicultural y sin fines de lucro. La misión es el desarrollo y la administración de programas académicos, educativos, y ambientales para el beneficio de los niños locales y sus familias, con el objetivo de que cada estudiante que anhela una educación tenga la oportunidad de adquirirla. Esta filosofía se aplica a todos los miembros de la comunidad, por lo que los fondos de las becas se recaudan para todos los estudiantes, ya sea que asistan a una escuela pública, a la Escuela Palapa, o a la universidad.

sus hombres invadieron San José del Cabo, saqueando todo lo que pudieron, incluso reliquias valiosas de la misión.

Animados por el éxito de su "liberación" de San José, nueve piratas del buque Independencia siguieron hacia el norte para "liberar" a Todos Santos. Los pobladores locales observaron pasivamente mientras los piratas saqueaban la misión. Los piratas empezaron a agredir a las mujeres, tal vez pensando que esta pasividad reflejaba una indiferencia general. Sin embargo, este error le costó la vida a cinco piratas que se dieron cuenta demasiado tarde de lo que los todosanteños estaban dispuestos a defender. Los cuatro sobrevivientes fueron encarcelados en San Antonio. No fue sino hasta que el capitán del Independencia amenazó con bombardear Todos Santos y San Antonio que fueron liberados los piratas.

La historia del pirata Thomas Cochrane es la primera crónica en el maravilloso libro "Cultura y Personajes de Todos Santos: El Pirata, el Padre, y la Partera" del Dr. Shane Macfarlan, profesor de antropología en la Universidad de Utah. Macfarlan ha estudiado a fondo las culturas y sociedades que dieron forma a Todos Santos a través de los siglos. La segunda historia corresponde al padre Gabriel González, un cura dominico nacido en España que se convertiría en caudillo.

La figura del caudillo surge en Latinoamérica tras las guerras de independencia a principios del siglo XIX. Según Macfarlan, "eran tiempos de gran inestabilidad en las nuevas repúblicas; las instituciones eran débiles, lo cual abrió las puertas a líderes carismáticos con ambiciones políticas y perspicacia militar. El caudillo brindaba a sus seguidores seguridad y riqueza, a cambio de lealtad." Por lo general, los curas no se convertían en caudillos, pero el padre Gabriel González era un cura fuera de lo común.

Henry Halleck, teniente americano, describió a González como una persona "astuta, inteligente, y calculadora" que además estaba "desprovisto de honor y principios." Dominó el panorama político sudcaliforniano de 1825 hasta 1850 y tuvo por lo menos una familia, probablemente dos, que vivía con él en el Rancho San Jacinto, una hacienda grande al sur de Todos Santos que pertenecía a la misión. Ahí amasó una fortuna con extensos cultivos de tabaco, EL PIRATA continúa en página 54 to Baja, overthrew the new government in La Paz, and had his enemies arrested and sent to Mazatlán, Padre Gabriel among them. Padre Gabriel used this time to go to Mexico City; he ingratiated himself so successfully with President Santa Ana that his mission lands were restored, and he was able to return safely to Todos Santos. Mata was “retired” from the peninsula by Mexico City in 1840, the same year that Padre Gabriel was made president of the Dominican missions throughout Baja California. The padre’s power was growing.

This cycle repeated itself in 1842 when Mexico appointed Luis de Castillo Negrete as Jefe Político in Baja California, again with the mandate to secularize mission lands. Padre Gabriel took decisive action again, threatening to excommunicate the governor and raising an armed force against him in Todos Santos. Soldiers in the garrison at La Paz loyal to the padre kidnapped Castillo Negrete and his brother, but the two men managed to escape and make their way to Todos Santos where a pitched battle between the padre’s rebels and the government’s forces ensued. The padre’s forces lost, so he was once again arrested and sent to Mazatlán. Padre Gabriel must have once again employed his powerful negotiating skills as once again Santa Ana pardoned him and once again his enemy was “retired” from the Baja peninsula. Padre Gabriel was now the richest man in Baja California and his hold over the evangelical, secular, commercial, and military affairs of Todos Santos and the surrounding areas seemed replete. In short, he was in a perfect position to engage in espionage and guerilla warfare against US troops occupying La Paz and San José del Cabo during the Mexican-American war of 1846-1848.

Most accounts by members of the American forces in Baja California reference Padre Gabriel. According to Peter Gerhard writing in the Pacific Historical Review, Captain Dupont of the US Navy called Padre Gabriel the “master spirit” of the insurgents. Lieutenant Henry Halleck had a more earthy assessment. “He was living at this time in La Paz for the purposes of medical advice for the numerous diseases contracted in some of his scenes of debauchery... He manifested the most friendly feelings towards the officers of the American garrison although... he was engaged in procuring arms for the insurgents.” Indeed, Padre Gabriel would often invite American officers to his home in La Paz, serve them wine, and while away hours with them playing cards. Mexican historian Pablo L. Martinez later justified Halleck’s suspicions that the padre used his parties with the Americans to gain intelligence stating that Padre Gabriel “at this time was one of the two political and military commanders of Baja California and had two sons serving as officers in the Mexican forces.” (Peter Gerhard, Pacific Historical Review.) TODOS SANTOS SURF SHOP AND ACTIVITIES CENTER/ EXPLORA BAJA

The Todos Santos Surf Shop is run by ocean professionals: Marine Biologist Paula Angeloni and Oceanographer Carlos Retamoza. Both are surfers, divers, lifeguards, and certified area guides; passionate and knowledgeable about nature and Baja. Even their daughter and dog surfs!

The store officially opened in 2013 as a family business after providing supplies for surfer friends on demand for several years. The Todos Santos Surf Shop not only sells surf boards, skim boards, snorkeling gear, surf skates, and all the surf-accessories, but spreads good vibes and has everything you may need to play in the water including, swimming fins, beach towels and more!

They carry international brands like Vans, Rip Curl, Dakine, Vissla, Rainbow, and Havaianas as well as many locally handmade clothes (Nomade), bikinis (Acuarela), accessories (Viri Surf Art and Pachamama Creations), natural sunscreen (Biznaga and Desert Sunblock) and the beloved "Eclipse" boards shaped by Meisy of Todos Santos and the Graen's, made in La Paz.

The shop also rents surfboards, boogie boards, and umbrellas as well. Looking for surf lessons? Personal lessons and private coaching are provided by the Todos Santos Surf Shop instructors team.

Paula and Carlos have always loved to support the community by organizing lifeguarding training since 2009, sports events, beach cleanups, and providing help to young locals in their way out in the water. They are proud sponsors of Lucas Durazo and Lilya Ambert, among others in Todos Santos—both Lucas and Lilya are on the rally for the Young Amateur Nationals this year.

Paula and Carlos are also dedicated to providing their guests with authentic, once-in-a-lifetime experiences by the sea. With their background and 17 years of experience with ecotourism in the area, they opened their own company together under the name of Explora Baja, offering day trips to swim with whale sharks and sea lions, fishing, hikes, Espiritu Santo Island, whale watching in Magdalena Bay, overnight adventures on Magdalena island... all made with love and commitment to detail to make sure that every single client, leaves town as friends and with the best of experiences.

The Todos Santos Surf Shop and Activities Center is located on Calle Hidalgo and Militar.

Mario Becerril Zayas grew up in La Paz and has surfed almost every single break along Baja's coasts. Mario opened Mario's Surf School in 2006 and he and his instructors have been teaching people to surf at Los Cerritos ever since. "You will be standing up on your surfboard with your first lesson," Mario states and many newbies have testified that this is true. With over thirteen years as a surfing instructor Mario has developed a teaching technique that has proved to be faultless. He inspires skill and confidence in the beginner, but he is also sought out by surfers with much experience who want to hone their technique at his renowned surf clinics.

The art of camouflage is essential for both predators and prey. Not being detected, while hunting or hiding, is one of the keys to survival and success, especially at night. Predators blend in with the background, so their prey won't see them approaching until it's too late. Prey animals need to blend in as well, so hungry predators might possibly pass right by them.

Many desert animals are more active in low-light conditions and at night, when it is dark and cooler than in the daytime. These animals sleep during the hot hours, often in a burrow, den, or thick brush and then emerge to hunt, forage, and move about when the sun sets, during the night, and at dawn.

In addition to camouflage, most nocturnal animals have other special adaptations that help them survive, such as their vision, echolocation, markings, coloration, and hearing. Some animals will even use combinations of materials to make them hard to see, or also helping to disguise them as something else.

Camouflage has been a topic of research and interest amongst zoologists for well over a century. Charles Darwin's theory of natural selection, published in 1859, suggests that these features evolved to provide the animals with a reproductive advantage over other members of the same species by enabling them to leave more offspring.

The black-tailed jackrabbit is a fun example of an animal who uses not only his long donkey-like ears for precise hearing, but also his coloration to make him much less visible in the brush. Killdeer birds are masters at disguising their nests—which are out in the open—with materials such as sticks, pebbles, and grass. Iguanas changing coloration as they mature—and change habitats from green plants to rock piles and outcroppings—enable them to hide very effectively. Osprey coloration of brown and white help them to look like shadows and clouds, especially from a fish-eye view underwater.

Atardecer, Oscuridad... Amanecer

Historia y fotos de Kaia Thomson

El arte del camuflaje es esencial tanto para los depredadores como para las presas. No ser detectado, mientras se caza o se esconde, es una de las claves para la supervivencia y el éxito, especialmente en la noche. Los depredadores se mezclan con el fondo, por lo que su presa no los verá acercarse hasta que sea demasiado tarde. Los animales de presa también deben mezclarse, por lo que los depredadores hambrientos posiblemente pasen por ellos.

Muchos animales del desierto son más activos en condiciones de poca luz y en la noche, cuando está oscuro y más fresco que durante el día. Estos animales duermen durante las horas más calurosas, a menudo en una madriguera, guarida o maleza espesa y luego emergen para cazar, buscar forraje y moverse cuando el sol se pone, durante la noche, y al amanecer.

Además del camuflaje, la mayoría de los animales nocturnos tienen otras adaptaciones especiales que los ayudan a sobrevivir, como su visión, ecolocación, marcas, coloración, y audición. Algunos animales incluso utilizarán combinaciones de materiales para hacerlos difíciles de ver, o también para disfrazarlos de otra cosa.

El camuflaje ha sido un tema de investigación e interés entre los zoólogos durante más de un siglo. La teoría de la selección natural de Charles Darwin, publicada en 1859, sugiere que estas características evolucionaron para proporcionar a los animales una ventaja reproductiva sobre otros miembros de la misma especie al permitirles dejar más descendientes.

width, and depth). The field of view for an owl is about 110 degrees—with about 70 degrees being binocular vision—excellent for viewing and hunting.

A very thin membrane located inside the pit organ on a snake's head warms up with the infrared radiation given off by its prey, a mouse for example. Even when the snake cannot see in the dark, this signal to the nerve fibers activates the receptors, suggesting that snakes actually feel heat given off by an animal, rather than seeing it.

audición precisa, sino también su coloración para hacerlo mucho menos visible a las pinceladas. Las aves de chorlito (Charadrius vociferus) son maestras en disfrazar sus nidos, que están a la intemperie, con materiales como palos, piedras, y pasto. Las iguanas cambian de color a medida que maduran, y cambian los hábitats de plantas verdes a montones de rocas y afloramientos rocosos, lo que les permite esconderse con gran eficacia. La coloración de águila pescadora de marrón y blanco les ayuda a verse como sombras y nubes, especialmente de la vista del ojo de un pez bajo el agua.

Los búhos son más activos durante la noche, cuando sus ojos grandes y orientados hacia delante pueden ver objetos en tres dimensiones (altura, anchura, y profundidad). El campo de visión de un búho es de aproximadamente 110 grados, con aproximadamente 70 grados siendo visión binocular, excelente para la observación y la caza.

Una membrana muy delgada ubicada dentro del órgano de pozo en la cabeza de una serpiente se calienta con la radiación infrarroja emitida por su presa, un ratón, por ejemplo. Incluso cuando la serpiente no puede ver en la oscuridad, esta señal a las fibras nerviosas activa los receptores, lo que sugiere que las serpientes realmente sienten calor emitido por un animal, en lugar de verlo.

El Cielo: The Baja Sky

by Roc Fleishman

Welcome to the Summer 2019 edition of El Cielo, highlighting the more visible movements of the heavenly objects above Baja California Sur from June through September.

- 4 8:15 pm new moon in the sunset, with Mercury below and right, Mars above and left.
- 16 Jupiter and the full moon rise together, Jupiter 5° above.
- 18 Saturn rises a few minutes (1°) ahead of the almost full moon. Mars and Mercury are passing each other, closest today before they set together around 10 pm.

Star notes: Omega Centauri is a great fuzzy ball at 18° of altitude in the south (southwest by end of June) at sunset—a great binocular or telescope target.

JULY

- 1 Last view of the waning crescent moon in the sunrise.
- 3 New moon visible in the sunset.
- 13 Waxing gibbous moon accompanies Jupiter most of the night.
- 16 Full moon rises with Saturn about 8 pm.

- 28/29 Southern Delta Aquariids Meteor Shower peaks tonight without much moon interference. Could be worth watching, and usually better in the early morning before dawn.

- 30 Last of the waning crescent moon in sunrise.

AUGUST

- 1 Possible new moon visible under best conditions. Try with binoculars. Easier to see it on the 2nd.
- 9 Jupiter close to moon, up most of the night.
- 12 Saturn and the moon close most of the night.
- 13 Perseid Meteor Shower Maximum—our usual big summer meteor shower always runs from the middle part of July until late August. The peak this year is supposed to be the morning of the 13th. The best time to watch will be from moonset at about 4 am, until the sky starts brightening at 5 to 5:30 am.
- 29 Last of the waning crescent moon in sunrise.
- 31 New moon visible in the sunset.

SEPTEMBER

- 5 First quarter moon close to Jupiter before setting together around 12 pm.

Voces del Pueblo

by Janice Kinne

Thank you for all the compliments on our stunning Kate Turning “wise woman” cover for the spring issue. We hope that you enjoy the classic-Baja Erick Ochoa “Rancho Las Playitas” painting that is on this issue’s cover. Pamela Ambrose’s feature story tells us more about Erick and Michael Cope’s art and the Galeria de Todos Santos.

A Pirate, a Priest, a Partera... in this issue, Bryan Jáuregui of Todos Santos Eco Adventures shares Dr. Shane McFarlan’s fascinating research into some of the characters that are part of Todos Santos’ history.

Are you ready to catch a wave? Having the right equipment can make all the difference between a smooth ride or a wipeout. Thankfully, Todos Santos and Pescadero have the best stores, all locally owned and operated, to get you out there, whether you’re a first-time surfer or pro. See our article in this issue.

Congratulations to Perla Garnica, Kate Turning, and the whole Gastrovino team on another successful event this past May. And congratulations to Bésame Mucho Bazaar on winning the attendees pick as best red wine this year!

“Cheers 2 Years,” Todos Santos Brewing (TSB) celebrates their second anniversary this June with a limited seating, meal of six food and beer pairings; and a special Sunday Sessions with a range of their regular artists performing. See events for more information.

Perro Surfero is a relaxed boutique hotel on the otro lado of Todos Santos. Over the years, Perro Surfero has become home to spontaneous, adventurous, and passionate travelers. See their ad for details.

Jazamango is a delightful culinary experience created by the renowned Mexican Chef Javier Plascencia. Inspired by his love for Baja, his cuisine is a mix of local products and organic ingredients that come straight from the garden, creating a unique blend of flavors and dishes that satisfy the senses.

Dr. David’s veterinary Clinica MartVet has moved around the corner to a brand-new location on calle A. Carrillo, just a half a block off of calle Degollado in Todos Santos.

Come and celebrate July 4th at the Cerritos Beach Inn beach party with live music, BBQ burgers and hot dogs, and fireworks.

St. Jude’s Pharmacy has opened a new pharmacy in Pescadero, across the highway from the Pemex station.

Blue Desert Luxury Transportation, in La Paz, offers tailor-made personal services at a competitive price. Safe, comfortable, and quality service—they’ll take you where you want to go—La Paz to Cabo airport, Todos Santos, Loreto, Cabo Pulmo, Los Barriles, El Triunfo... anywhere in Baja Sur. See their ad for details.

Rouss Ramirez of Bésame Mucho Bazaar and BMB wine at Gastrovino.

Todos Insurance provides the highest quality international healthcare options. Contact Jack Schaub for more information.

The Mexican dialing system changes on August 3. All telephone numbers, whether land line or cellular, local or long distance, will have 10 digits (the area code and the phone number) with no prefixes required. Callers from abroad can also stop using the extra “1” that was required when dialing cell phone numbers. They will be dialed just like landlines, by entering Mexico’s two-digit country code (52) before dialing the area code and phone number. Nationwide and local emergency numbers such as 911 will remain the same.

Chill N Grill and Shut Up Frank’s in Todos Santos will both be open all summer, serving up cold drinks and good times. Be sure to stop in!

After 29 years, Café Santa Fé is closing on July 15. If you missed our story in the winter issue on Ezio Colombo, “the godfather of the Todos Santos culinary scene,” you can find it, and every issue, online at journaldelpacifico.com

Have a good summer! We’ll see you in late October with our fall issue. Deadline is September 19.

Beaches / Playas

by Janice Kinne

Todos Santos lies inland along the rugged Pacific coast. There are miles of beautiful white sand beaches accessible down unmarked dirt roads.

This stretch of the Pacific Ocean is a very dangerous place to swim at any time of the year. Strong rip currents and backwash are common. People have drowned in waters near Todos Santos simply because they were too close to the ocean while on beaches with steep drop-offs. There are no lifeguards on duty at any area beaches.

You can access the LA POZA and LA CACHORA beaches via the La Cachora road. Both are suitable for walking, fishing, whale watching, relaxing, or sunbathing. They are not swimming beaches.

Because of the big waves breaking on the shore, La Cachora beach has become popular with skim boarders.

La Poza has a large freshwater lagoon that is great for bird watching. If you are going to swim in the lagoon be very careful. The lagoon may appear to be shallow, but has many sudden drop-offs and is actually very deep.

PUNTA LOBOS, named for a sea lion colony, is also known as the fishermen's beach. Simply follow calle Francisco Bojorquez Vidal (formerly calle Punta Lobos) south out of town, or turn off at km 54 from Highway 19. You will pass an old cannery from the days when fishermen could harvest sea turtles legally. There is a small freshwater lagoon at Punta Lobos with a shrine to the Virgin.

The fishermen ride their panga boats on the waves onto the beach between 1 and 3 pm. Their return is exciting to watch and you can usually buy fresh fish from the cooperatives.

The two fishing cooperatives have exclusive rights to the "launch zone" at Playa Punta Lobos. For reasons of safety and due to past problems, boat launching at Punta Lobos is not permitted without their express permission.

The only recommended swimming beaches are outside of Pescadero. SAN PEDRO, also known as PALM BEACH (Playa Las Palmas), is near km 57. Its entrance is across Highway 19 from the Campo Experimental—stay to the left as you pass the abandoned hacienda. Las Palmas is a beautiful, secluded beach surrounded by a palm grove with a freshwater lagoon that is home to a variety of plants, birds, and wildlife.

Due to strong currents (especially near the rocky point), swimming is safer 50 meters from the rocks. Swim with caution and always have a land reference. The property surrounding Palm Beach is privately owned. The gates are open from 6 am to 9 pm daily. Car break-ins have been reported at Palm Beach. Leave your valuables at home!

PLAYA SAN PEDRITO is a rocky surfing beach around km 60, about 4.6 miles (7.4 km) from Todos Santos.

PLAYA LOS CERRITOS is located at km 64 about eight miles (12.8 km) south of Todos Santos. Look for the turnoff after the hill, south of Puente El Pescadero. Los Cerritos is a popular spot for surfing, boogie boarding, swimming, and fishing. Swim with caution due to strong riptides near the rocks. It is recommended to stay at least 50 meters from the rocks. The most secure swimming area is in front of the restaurant/bar. Swim with caution and always have a land reference. There is a long stretch of beach to the south that is perfect for walking or running. Surfboard rentals and other services are available.

MARIO'S SURF SCHOOL provides surfing lessons, board rentals, repairs, and accessories. Call for information.

PESCADERO SURF CAMP, #36 on the Pescadero map, provides surfing lessons and surfaris.

TODOS SANTOS ECO ADVENTURES, #163 on the Todos Santos map. Since 2002 Todos Santos Eco Adventures (TOSEA) has been providing visitors with opportunities to explore, celebrate, and help conserve the magnificently diverse ecosystems of Baja. TOSEA offers whale and bird-watching trips in the Pacific lagoons; treks and ranchero culture programs in the Sierra la Laguna mountains; Sea Turtle Camp and surfing surfaris on the Pacific coast, and kayaking, "glamping," whale shark, and sea lion adventures in the Sea of Cortez.

TODOS SANTOS SURF SHOP, #87 on the Todos Santos map, sells and rents surf boards, offers beach supplies and activities around Todos Santos. They carry international brands like Vans, Rip Curl, Dakine, Exile, and Rainbow & Havaianas sandals. They also carry many locally handmade wares, clothes, bikinis, accessories, natural sunscreen, and the beloved "Eclipse" boards shaped by Meisy of Todos Santos. They offer tours to swim with whale sharks and sea lions, surfing lessons, fishing trips, trips to Espíritu Santo Island, and whale watching in Magdalena Bay.

el verano de 2012 y se ha convertido en la tienda para surfistas, patinadores y personas que aman ir a la playa y lucir bien en algunas de las camisetas icónicas de La Katrina.

La Katrina cuenta con tablas de surf nuevas y usadas y es un distribuidor de tablas de surf FireWire. ¡La tienda de Aaron tiene la más amplia selección de equipos de surf y skate que cualquier tienda en el área y la profundidad de su inventario de surf y skate es como encontrar agua en el desierto! Como un compromiso para apoyar el talento local, La Katrina ofrece una serie de opciones de ropa de diseñadores locales, como Ripa, Equilibrium Project, y Morena Swimwear. Además, una de las cosas favoritas de Aaron es patrocinar la escena del skate local. Hace dos años, con la ayuda de un pequeño grupo de personas con ideas similares, La Katrina fue uno de los patrocinadores que ayudó a financiar y construir la hermosa mini rampa en el Parque Los Pinos de Todos Santos. Aaron también construyó un bowl para patinar inspirado en la década de los 70, en un pedazo de una propiedad que posee... pero tendrás que preguntarle al respecto #secretbowl.

¡Ven a saludar! La Katrina está ubicada en las calles Hidalgo y Centenario, junto a la librería El Tecolote, en el corazón del centro histórico.

TODOS SANTOS SURF SHOP y CENTRO DE ACTIVIDADES / EXPLORA BAJA

La tienda de surf Todos Santos Surf Shop está manejada por profesionales del mar: la bióloga marina Paula Angeloni y el oceanógrafo Carlos Retamoza. Ambos son surfistas, buzos, salvavidas, y guías certificados; apasionados y conocedores de la naturaleza y La Baja. ¡Hasta su hija y su perro surfean!

La tienda se inauguró oficialmente en el 2013 como una empresa familiar, después de haber estado proporcionando artículos de surf para amigos durante varios años. Todos Santos Surf Shop no solo vende tablas de surf y de skim, equipo de snorkeling, surf skates, y todos los accesorios necesarios para surfear, sino que también comparte buenas vibras y tiene todo lo que necesitas para jugar en el agua, incluyendo aletas, toallas para la playa y más!

La tienda también renta tablas de surf, boogies, y sombrillas. ¿Buscando clases de surf? El equipo de instructores del Todos Santos Surf Shop proporciona lecciones personalizadas a principiantes y entrenamiento privado para mejorar tus técnicas a los surfistas más avanzados.

in Padre Gabriel's life ended much like the previous two: a fierce battle in Todos Santos, the capture and arrest of Padre Gabriel and other guerrilla leaders, and the Padre's exile to Mazatlán.

But this exile did not last long. The US-Mexico peace treaty returned Baja California to México and Padre Gabriel was allowed to return to Todos Santos in 1849. In 1851 secularization of the mission lands was finally achieved, although by this time Padre Gabriel's family had clear title to the ranch in San Jacinto so secularization was only a professional, not personal blow to the padre. But the Dominican governance was changing and in 1855 Padre Gabriel, who had arrived from Spain 30 years before, left Baja for mainland Mexico while a titular bishop was installed in his stead. But apparently, he received permission to return to Baja as an ordinary curate as the burial register of Todos Santos notes that he died there on June 1, 1868. He is reputed to have fathered 22 children, and their descendants may still visit Padre Gabriel at the family mausoleum in the Todos Santos cemetery today.

Padre Gabriel's rebel spirit lives on in at least some of his descendants, one of whom was Dionisia Villarino Espinoza, popularly known as La Corónela. A granddaughter of Padre Gabriel, La Corónela was born in Todos Santos in 1865, and had a remarkable career that included spying for Pancho Villa's troops during the Mexican Revolution, caring for political dissidents when she was imprisoned for her efforts, and in 1932 becoming the first woman in Baja California to legally drive a car. While her career took her to other parts of the Baja peninsula, she ended her days as a licensed partera, or midwife, in Todos Santos, where she died in 1957 at the age of 92. In 2005 the government of BCS issued a medallion in her honor, acknowledging her outstanding contributions to the state.

Dr. Macfarlan wants the current residents of Todos Santos who have historical roots in the town to be able to connect with their ancestors. Using the birth, death and baptismal records from the Guia Familiar de Baja California 1700-1900, Dr. Macfarlan has created a database of Todos Santeños; he is happy to give a copy to anyone who requests it. Moreover, he would love for families to share with him any information they have about individuals in the database to expand the knowledge available to everyone. He will be in Todos Santos this summer to work on the project and you can also reach out to him at shane.macfarlan@anthro.utah.edu.

Todos Santos Eco Adventures (TOSEA) provides visitors with opportunities to explore, celebrate, and help conserve the magnificently diverse ecosystems of Baja with whale and bird-watching trips in the Pacific lagoons; treks and ranchero culture programs in the Sierra la Laguna mountains; Sea Turtle Camp and surfing surfaris on the Pacific coast; and kayaking, "glamping," and whale shark and sea lion adventures in the Sea of Cortez. www.TOSEA.net. La Paz Beaches

by Michael Cope

The malecón along the bay of La Paz is the perfect place to walk, run, people watch, or enjoy gazing across the water. Crews clean the beaches and walkways daily, fresh sand has been imported and there are palapas to offer shade. Locals and tourists visit the beaches north of downtown to swim, snorkel, or kayak. There are several adventure companies along the malecón and at the marinas offering panga rides, bay and island cruises, snorkeling, scuba diving, fishing, sailing, and kayak rentals.

EL MOGOTÉ is the spit of land that separates the harbor of La Paz from the Bahía de La Paz. This natural treasure used to be, for the most part, accessible only with 4WD. Now driving onto the peninsula is restricted due to the construction of golf courses, homes, and hotels.

PLAYA EL COROMUEL 4.5 km from downtown La Paz, is the first beach north of town and an easy walk from downtown. It is within the harbor boundaries, has shaded palapas, and food / beverage services. The water here gets much better flow with the tide change and is suitable for swimming. The bottom is clean sand and rock. Snorkeling is good further out.

PLAYA EL TESORO 13 km from downtown La Paz, is a great little beach for children. The shallow, clear waters allow you to walk out for close to 100 meters. Tesoro has about 25 shaded palapas, two small restaurants, and kayak rentals.

PICHILINGUE 19 km from downtown La Paz. Pichilingue is home to the La Paz ferry terminus and a large commercial harbor. There are pleasant, small beaches just north of the deep water port, on the Vieja Bahía de Pichilingue. Beachfront food, beverage service, and kayak rentals are available and there is a restaurant with an upstairs view. The palapa bar is popular in the hot summer afternoons.

PLAYA BALANDRA 23 km from downtown La Paz, is known for its famous balancing rock formation landmark that resembles a prehistoric mushroom. You can view the rock formation and playa El Hongo by walking in the water around the cliff to your right. The large beach and surrounding area are beautiful. The waters surrounding Balandra are shallow and safe for children. Sheltered from wave action from nearly every direction, the water warms early and is very safe for swimmers and kayaking. There are also several little beaches (coves) and mangroves to explore. The beach has no services, so pack your own lunches and drinks for the day. There are vendors renting chairs, selling fruit and drinks, beach palapas for shade, and BBQ pits to the south.

PLAYA EL TECOLOTE 26 km from downtown La Paz, is by far the largest and most visited beach in La Paz. Two restaurant/bars offer shade palapas and a large number of beach vendors offer refreshments. RV camping is available, along with a wide variety of water sports rentals. Usually there are no lifeguards on duty, but they may be present during la semana santa and in the summer. The beach has a beautiful view of Isla Espíritu Santo and panga rides to the island are available—a 6.5 km crossing through the San Lorenzo channel. Bus service from the station on the malecón to playa El Tecolote is available for a nominal charge.

Sting rays are the biggest hazard at the playas and tend to be present on the bottom in shallow waters during the summer. When walking in the water, shuffle your feet on the bottom to avoid stepping directly on a resting ray.

There are no restrictions for beach fishing at any beaches. Please respect our beaches and help protect the sea turtles; don't leave trash or drive on the dunes or beaches.

Galería de Todos Santos

incorporated cows into her farm scenes, but she never saw bovines like Erick's. These animals are placid and wise old girls, their attention poised with hooded eyes looking out on the world. But why these vacas? "It was the light hitting the cows that first attracted me," states Erick. As in the painting, "Rancho Las Playitas," "The cows act as a vehicle, or in themselves a canvas, for the great light of Todos Santos." For a real-life view of the cows, the rancho is about two miles north of Todos Santos. You drive by and there they are—the cows in the sunlight.

Erick carries his talent for understanding the properties of light into his more recent paintings of plant life, such as "Agave Dragon," 2018, where a single Agave attenuata plant crowds the square picture plane to make the image larger than life with the leaves of the plant menacingly active and pushing outward towards the viewer. This is no idealized image of an agave, but true-to-life, with the brittle brown tips of the lower leaves dying while the upper leaves in lush greens allude to the plant's cycle of life and death. The Italian Renaissance master Caravaggio metaphorically used this device in his still lives of overly ripe fruit passed its prime and in slight decay. This muscular agave at first seems to be without grounding, just hovering in front of us, but a tiny device in the upper right of the canvas provides the image some spatial context. Against the brick-red background of the canvas is a fascinating, tiny tendril and blossom that lead our eye and mind to something outside of the picture plane. The agave image also takes on additional meaning as one of the true symbols of Mexico with its mythological themes of love, life, death, and jealousy. (The goddess Mayáhuél is the female deity associated with the maguey plant among the many cultures of central Mexico.)

In contrast to his partner, Michael Cope is a wiry, energetic, occasionally frenetic man whose enthusiasm for talking about art bubbles up in casual conversation. His career path took him from the cosmetics world, where he became the US Beauty Director and eventually International Beauty Director at Revlon in the 1970s and 80s, to Todos Santos in the early 90s to establish himself as one of the first gallery owners in town. When asked the question about why so many galleries in Todos Santos are owned by artists, he replied, "Well, if you wanted to show your work in those days, you had better do it yourself." So, opening his first gallery in the newly-restored Todos Santos Inn; he became a gallery owner along with finally having the time to make art. To quote from the gallery's website... The historical area of Todos Santos was perfect for the venture and so was the timing. When asked about starting the gallery Michael said, "It took a while to find artists that were really artists. I wanted painters and sculptors whose lives were about their art and the process of doing it. I also wanted to make sure we represented as many Mexican artists as American."

La Sociedad Palapa

¿POR QUÉ BECAS?

Hace más de 15 años, La Sociedad de La Palapa comenzó como un programa de becas. En México, los estudiantes deben pagar una parte de su educación. El programa de Becas de La Sociedad de La Palapa ha ayudado a cubrir necesidades tales como colegiatura, libros, y suministros para los estudiantes que demuestran mérito y tienen una necesidad económica. Gracias a nuestros generosos donantes, este año, se han otorgado más de 1,100 becas a estudiantes de secundaria, preparatoria, y universidad en y los alrededores de Todos Santos. Y en la Escuela Palapa, todos los estudiantes reciben algún tipo de beca a menor escala.

¿Sabía que...? La Sociedad de La Palapa actualmente apoya con las colegiaturas de 150 estudiantes con becas totales o parciales para la escuela secundaria y preparatoria pública, la Escuela de Palapa, y la universidad.

ALUMNOS EXTRAORDINARIOS

El programa de becas de La Sociedad de La Palapa apoya a los estudiantes académicos que están decididos a sacar el máximo provecho de ir a la escuela y aplicarse en su educación. La estudiante Karen V. es un excelente ejemplo. Ella ha superado los desafíos de mudarse a Todos Santos desde la Ciudad de México, y se ha destacado por ser una de las mejores integrantes de su clase. Recientemente obtuvo 10, la puntuación más alta posible, en sus exámenes de Química, Historia, Filosofía, Arte, y más. "Mi experiencia en la Escuela de La Palapa es maravillosa y única. Cuando vaya a la universidad, quiero estudiar diseño en París, Francia."

Y hay estudiantes que han aprendido la importancia de retribuir, como Asael M., graduado de la preparatoria pública y ganador de la beca, que actualmente estudia Ingeniería Química en la Universidad Autónoma Metropolitana (UAM) en la Ciudad de México. Asael regresó a Todos Santos el mes pasado para trabajar como voluntario con estudiantes en el Laboratorio de Ciencias de La Escuela de La Palapa, mientras sus maestros en la UAM están en huelga. Él es un ejemplo extraordinario para los estudiantes más jóvenes.

OPORTUNIDADES EXTRAORDINARIAS DE APRENDIZAJE

Tener la capacidad de asistir a la escuela puede brindar oportunidades y abrir puertas de maneras que nunca hubiéramos imaginado. Paola L., estudiante de tercer grado de la Escuela Palapa, fue seleccionada para recibir la beca del American Field Service para estudiar tecnología y cuidados ambientales en el Cairo, Egipto este verano, lo que le dará la oportunidad de aprender con estudiantes de todo el mundo.

FUTUROS EXTRAORDINARIOS

Sabemos que tener una comunidad educada puede ayudar a reducir el abuso de drogas y alcohol, el embarazo en adolescentes, y la violencia doméstica, pero también puede ayudar a crear miembros de la sociedad más felices y productivos.

Lidia López se graduó con licenciatura en arquitectura, con el apoyo del programa de Beca de La Sociedad de Palapa. En 2016, se convirtió en gerente de proyectos para la construcción del Centro Educativo La Palapa. "Estoy agradecida a La Sociedad de La Palapa por el apoyo que recibí, que me permitió terminar mi educación superior. Estoy muy emocionada de haber trabajado en la construcción del Centro Educativo La Palapa para las futuras generaciones de estudiantes."

La Sociedad de La Palapa ayudó a Martha Elizabeth Pérez Díaz con el costo de la colegiatura a través de toda su educación hasta el final de la universidad cuando recibió su título de maestra y trabajó como directora de la escuela Profa. Eloisa Agramont Mendoza en el Pescadero. "Estoy orgullosa de mis logros, pero ansiosa de seguir preparándome para ayudar a las generaciones futuras a tener acceso a una mejor educación. Mis planes son quedarme en Todos Santos y hacer cosas buenas para mi comunidad."

USTED PUEDE HACER LA DIFERENCIA

El programa de Beca de La Sociedad de La Palapa está trabajando para ayudar a los estudiantes a construir un futuro más brillante. Usted puede ser parte de este programa de cambio de vida al apoyar a un estudiante por tan solo $25 dólares por mes. Para hacer una donación deducible de impuestos en los E.U.A., Visite www.palapasociety.org/. Para convertirse en voluntario o programar una visita al campus, envíe un correo electrónico a info@palapasociety.org

"Tag" by Michael Cope

Michael predominately paints the figure and the landscape, or the figure in the landscape. There is a touch of impressionism in his work in the sense that you can feel a fleeting moment of land, sea, and sky. Using a softened palette, his scenes of sunsets are uncanny in the range of expressions of the backlit clouds. A tiny, tiny image of a galloping horse at the lower corner of one of his paintings "Troublesome Sky," 2017, takes us from almost abstract composition to the suggestion of reality. This is one of the rapturous moments we see here in Todos Santos that Michael captures when looking out to the Pacific Ocean. In a more recent departure from his previous, more detailed work with the figure, Michael has turned his soft-focus gaze to young children with the sort of image you might see when taking a drive. The faces are blurred, but the body gestures are recognizable as children at play in a pool of water or playing tag in the hot sunlight. In "Tag," 2018, you can feel the exuberance of the tiny nudes and the motion of the bodies and the water the artist has dynamically painted with the loosest of brush strokes. These generic children capture our imagination without being too specific and allude beautifully to the question of how much do we visually need to know to peak our memory?

Erick and Michael's art can be seen in the gallery along with the numerous artists they represent. For certain, a visit to Galería de Todos Santos will give you an overview of many of the best artists living and working in this area and the Mexico mainland. For a complete list of artists represented by the gallery, please visit www.galeriatodosantos.com to learn why this gallery is so special.

Galería de Todos Santos is located on calle Topete, just as you turn the corner from town's main street, calle Juárez. The restaurant, Michael's at the Gallery, is by reservation only.

casual. Su carrera lo llevó al mundo de los cosméticos, donde se convirtió en Director de Belleza de los EE. UU. y luego en Director de Belleza Internacional para Revlon, en los años 70 y 80. Finalmente, a principios de los 90, se establece en Todos Santos como uno de los primeros galeristas en el pueblo. Al preguntarle por qué hay tantas galerías en Todos Santos que son propiedad de artistas, él respondió: "Bueno, si uno desea mostrar su trabajo en estos días, es mejor que lo haga uno mismo." Entonces, al abrir su primer galería en el Todos Santos Inn, que acababa de ser restaurado, se convirtió en propietario de una galería y finalmente tuvo tiempo para hacer arte. Para citar el sitio web de la galería... El área histórica de Todos Santos era perfecta para el proyecto y también lo fue el momento. Cuando se le preguntó acerca de cómo se inició la galería, Michael dijo: "Tomó un tiempo encontrar artistas que realmente fuesen artistas. Quería pintores y escultores cuyas vidas se basaran en su arte y en el proceso de hacerlo. También quería asegurarme de que representáramos tantos artistas mexicanos como estadounidenses."

Michael pinta predominantemente figura y paisaje, o la figura en el paisaje. Su trabajo tiene toques impresionistas en el sentido de que puedes sentir un momento efímero de cielo, mar, y tierra. A través de una paleta suave, sus atardeceres se convierten en misteriosas expresiones de nubes a contraluz. Una imagen diminuta de un caballo galopando en la esquina inferior de uno de sus cuadros, Troublesome Sky, 2017, nos lleva desde una composición casi abstracta a la sugerencia de la realidad. Este es uno de los momentos extáticos que tenemos aquí en Todos Santos y que Michael captura al mirar hacia el Océano Pacífico. En una partida más reciente de su trabajo anterior más detallado con la figura, Michael dirigió su mirada a los niños, mostrando el tipo de imagen que uno puede ver cuando conduce por la calle. Los rostros están borrosos, pero los gestos corporales son reconocibles como los de niños que juegan en un charco de agua o a las atrapadas bajo el sol caliente. En Tag, 2018, puedes sentir la exuberancia de los diminutos desnudos y el movimiento de los cuerpos y el agua que el artista pintó dinámicamente con los trazos de pincel más suaves. Estos niños genéricos capturan nuestra imaginación sin ser demasiado específicos y aluden maravillosamente a la pregunta de cuánto necesitamos saber visualmente para alcanzar nuestros recuerdos.

El arte de Erick y Michael se puede apreciar en la galería junto con los numerosos artistas que representan. De seguro, una visita a la Galería de Todos Santos le dará un panorama general de muchos de los mejores artistas que viven y trabajan en esta área y en el continente de México. Para obtener una lista completa de los artistas representados por la galería, visite www.galeriatodosantos.com y tendrá una idea de por qué esta galería es tan especial.

han declarado que esto es cierto. Con más de trece años como instructor de surf, Mario ha desarrollado una técnica de enseñanza que ha demostrado ser infalible. Él transmite habilidad y confianza en el principiante, pero también es buscado por surfistas con mucha experiencia que quieren perfeccionar su técnica, en sus reconocidas clínicas de surf.

Esta temporada, Mario abrió el Pescadero Surf Shop, al lado de Todos Santos Transportation en el camino al café Baja Beans en el Pescadero. La tienda de surf ofrece todo lo que necesitas para el surf: alquiler de tablas de surf, venta de tablas de surf nuevas y usadas, cera, reparaciones, accesorios, reportes de surf, e información. ¡También puedes arreglar clases de surf, tours de surf y de SUP, y actividades en la tienda con Mario's Surf School!

Mario's Surf School te brinda las mejores clases de surf, personalizadas a tu nivel de habilidad. Las clases privadas y grupales se llevan a cabo en la playa de Los Cerritos, a solo 10 minutos de Todos Santos, con fondo arenoso y olas suaves, lo que la convierte en una de las mejores playas de México para aprender a surfear. Puedes ser alguien que quiere intentar surfear por primera vez y experimentar la emoción de agarrar tu primer ola... y quedar enganchado para siempre. O puedes tener algo de experiencia y estés buscando maximizar tus habilidades de surf. ¡Junto con las excelentes condiciones de la playa Los Cerritos y la más experta instrucción de surf de Mario's Surf School, puedes alcanzar todos tus objetivos en el surf! La escuela también ofrece tours de surf "surfaris" en el área de Cabo y más al norte en Punta Conejo.

Baja Surf Shops

This season, Mario opened the Pescadero Surf Shop next door to Todos Santos Transportation on the road to Baja Beans Café in el Pescadero. The surf shop stocks everything you need for surfing: surfboard rentals, used and new surfboards for sale, wax, ding repair, accessories, surf reports, and information. You can also arrange surf lessons, surf and SUP tours, and activities at the store with Mario Surf School!

Mario Surf School provides you with the best surf instruction, customized to your skill level. Private and group classes are held at Los Cerritos beach, only 10 minutes from Todos Santos, where there is a smooth, sandy bottom and gentle waves, making it one of the best beaches in Mexico to learn to surf. You may be someone who wants to try surfing for the first time and experience the emotional rush of catching your first wave... to be hooked forever. Or you may have some surfing experience and are looking to maximize your surf skills. Together with the great conditions at Los Cerritos beach and the most expert surfing instruction from Mario Surf School, you can reach all your surfing goals! The school also offers surf tours "surfaris" in the Cabo area as well further north to Punta Conejo.

azúcar, y maíz, además de criar ganado, caballos, y mulas y producir ron. Cuando el congreso mexicano votó por expropiar las tierras misioneras de Baja California, el padre Gabriel logró negociar que las propiedades dominicas de Todos Santos y San José se quedaran en manos de la iglesia, a diferencia de las misiones franciscanas de la Alta California que perdieron todo su patrimonio.

Sin embargo, el gobierno mexicano continuó ejerciendo presión y en 1833 se decretó que todas las tierras de la iglesia serían expropiadas. Esta vez tocó al gobernador José María Mata ejecutar la expropiación; esto motivó al padre Gabriel a instigar una insurrección contra Mata en La Paz. El gobernador fue capturado y expulsado de la península, fuerte testimonio del poder que había logrado el padre Gabriel y sus simpatizantes. Sin embargo, Mata regresó en 1837 y derrocó el nuevo gobierno de La Paz. Arrestó a sus enemigos, entre ellos el padre Gabriel, y los envió a Mazatlán. El padre fue de ahí a la Ciudad de México, donde se agració con el presidente Santa Ana a tal grado que logró conseguir la restauración de sus tierras y salvoconducto para regresar a Todos Santos. El gobierno federal "jubiló" a Mata en 1840, mismo año en que el padre Gabriel fue nombrado presidente de las misiones Dominicas en todo Baja California. La influencia del cura iba en aumento.

La historia se repitió en 1842 cuando el gobierno designó a Luis de Castillo Negrete como jefe político en Baja California y le encomendó la tarea nuevamente de expropiar las tierras de la iglesia. El padre Gabriel de nuevo tomó acción decisiva y amenazó con excomulgar al gobernador e incitar una insurrección en Todos Santos. Los soldados acuartelados en La Paz que eran fieles al cura secuestraron a Castillo Negrete y a su hermano, pero ambos lograron escapar y llegar a Todos Santos, donde se llevó a cabo una cruenta lucha entre las fuerzas del gobierno y los rebeldes del cura. Perdió la insurrección, así que nuevamente el padre Gabriel fue arrestado y enviado a Mazatlán. Repitiendo el ciclo, González viajó a la Ciudad de México y se reunió con Santa Ana, quien lo perdonó y "jubiló" a Castillo Negrete. El padre Gabriel regresó a la península aún más poderoso y rico, dominando por completo el panorama eclesiástico, político, comercial, y militar de Todos Santos y sus zonas aledañas. En otras palabras, estaba posicionado perfectamente para realizar misiones de espionaje y guerrilla contra las tropas estadounidenses que ocupaban La Paz y San José durante la invasión yanqui de 1846 al 48.

Casi todos los relatos de las tropas estadounidenses que estuvieron en Baja California hacen referencia al padre Gabriel. Según Peter Gerhard en el Pacific Historical Review, el capitán Dupont de la armada estadounidense consideró al padre Gabriel el “espíritu animador” de los insurgentes. El teniente Henry Halleck lo veía de manera más terrenal: “Durante estos tiempos vivía en La Paz por motivos de consejos médicos recibidos a raíz de las numerosas enfermedades contraídas en sus momentos de libertinaje... A pesar de ocuparse en procurar armas para las fuerzas insurgentes, gustaba de la compañía y amistad de los militares norteamericanos.” El padre Gabriel a menudo invitaba oficiales americanos a su casa en La Paz, compartiendo vinos, y pasando las horas jugando a los naipes. El historiador mexicano Pablo L. Martínez, años después, confirmó las sospechas de Halleck, ya que el padre Gabriel usaba las reuniones con los oficiales norteamericanos para obtener información; el cura era “uno de dos comandantes políticos y militares de Baja California y dos hijos suyos eran oficiales del ejército mexicano.” (Peter Gerhard, Pacific Historical Review). Sin embargo, este capítulo de la vida del padre Gabriel terminó como los anteriores: una cruenta batalla y derrota en Todos Santos, captura y arresto del cura y sus tenientes, y exilio a Mazatlán.

Pero este exilio no duró mucho; el tratado de paz entre México y Estados Unidos devolvió la península al control mexicano y el padre Gabriel pudo regresar a Todos Santos en 1849. En 1851 por fin culminó la expropiación de las tierras eclesiásticas; sin embargo, para entonces la familia del padre Gabriel ya ostentaba propiedad titular del rancho San Jacinto, por lo que pudieron mantener su posesión. Para 1855, la dirigencia dominica sufría muchos cambios, y el padre Gabriel, quien había llegado de España 30 años atrás, dejó la península por el interior de la república, dejando un obispo titular a cargo. Parece ser, sin embargo, que recibió permiso de regresar a la región como un cura ordinario, ya que el registro civil de Todos Santos indica que murió ahí el primero de junio de 1868. Se dice que tuvo veintidós hijos, y sus descendientes aún pueden visitar al padre Gabriel en el mausoleo familiar del panteón todosanteño hoy día.

El espíritu rebelde del padre Gabriel se mantuvo vivo en por lo menos algunos de sus descendientes. Entre ellos se encuentra Dionisia Villarino Espinoza, popularmente conocida como “La Coronela.” Nacida en Todos Santos en 1865, la nieta del padre Gabriel vivió una extraordinaria vida y experiencias, entre ella ser espía para Pancho Villa durante la Revolución, atender a disidentes políticos cuando fue presa por sus acciones, y en 1932 se convirtió en la primer mujer que manejó un automóvil (legalmente) en Baja California. Su carrera la llevó a todas partes de la península, y la última parte de su vida la dedicó a ser partera certificada en Todos Santos, donde falleció en 1957 a la edad de 92 años. En 2005 el gobierno del estado emitió un galardón en su honor en reconocimiento de sus extraordinarias contribuciones Baja California Sur.

El Dr. Macfarlan quisiera que todos los residentes actuales de Todos Santos que tienen raíces históricas con el pueblo puedan conectarse a ellas. Haciendo uso del registro de nacimientos, bautizos, y defunciones en la Guía Familiar de Baja California 1700-1900, McFarlan ha creado una base de datos de todosanteños, misma que gustosamente comparte con quien lo solicite. Además, le encantaría invitar a las familias a compartir información genealógica para contribuir a la base de datos y crecer el acervo cultural de la comunidad. El Dr. Macfarlan estará en Todos Santos este verano para trabajar el proyecto; se le puede contactar al correo shane.macfarlan@anthro.utah.edu.

- 13 Mercury and Venus pass in the sunset sky, visibly close for a few days plus or minus. Look just above and left of where the sun sets.
- 29 New moon visible in the sunset. Look below and left and see if you can spot Mercury.

For more information on any of the above subjects, check out the web links below. To arrange a star party or for other astronomical questions, call me on my cell phone at (612) 348-5468, or visit my Pescadero Properties Real Estate office in Plaza Antigua—upstairs, unit #9—Pescadero Properties, #16 on the Todos Santos map.
